

MAYOR OUSTS CITY PLANNER

PRESIDENT VETOES McNARY-HAUGEN BILL

EQUALIZATION FEE HIT SECOND TIME IN WHITE HOUSE MESSAGE

Executive Disregards Threats of Grain Belt Revolt. EXPLAINS STAND It is Improbable Measure Can be Passed.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill today for the second time.

Ignoring the advice of the farm bloc in congress, and disregarding the threats of a grain belt revolt against the administration in the forthcoming election, Mr. Coolidge sent the famous measure back to the capitol without his signature, and accompanied it with a message explaining his reasons for disapproving it.

Although the bill had been modified considerably to meet presidential objections of a year ago it still contained the equalization fee — which agrarian leaders characterize as the heart of the plan — and to which Mr. Coolidge has been unyielding in his opposition.

In view of the short time remaining of the present session of congress it is not anticipated that the bill can be passed over the veto. It is not even certain that an effort will be made to do so, for some of the rebellious backers of the bill have declared their intention to let the party stand the onus of its defeat.

24-Page Message. The presidential message of rejection was one of the longest he has ever sent to congress, covering some 24 printed pages, which also included an opinion by the attorney general.

Y. & O. WORKER HURT IN FALL

Raymond Leonard Narrowly Escapes Electrocution.

Raymond Leonard, 26, electrician for the Youngstown & Ohio River railroad, narrowly escaped electrocution at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he came in contact with a wire carrying 650 volts of electricity while connecting a bank of lights at Stop 54, five miles north of here.

Leonard was working on top of the line car, splicing a wire which led to the trolley. He was hurled to the ground by the shock. His fall was broken when his chest struck the roof of a telephone booth. He then dropped to the ground, a fall of about seven feet, alighting on his back.

Leonard was brought to the Y. & O. freight station in Moore street on the line car and then taken to the City hospital in an automobile. His back was sprained and his hands burned.

After his injuries were dressed he was taken to his home in Leetonia.

Two States Are Yet to Choose G. O. P. Delegates While Six Are to Stage Democratic Fights

By GEORGE R. HOLMES. WASHINGTON, May 23.—The delegates that will comprise the Republican and Democratic national conventions have to a large extent been selected.

Two states, Texas and South Dakota, acted yesterday. South Dakota will send a Smith delegation to Houston, and a Lowden delegation to Kansas City. The Texas situation is somewhat muddled by controversy and internecine strife. Two Republican delegations will go to Kansas City and engage in a contest, one instructed for Hoover, the other uninstructed. The 40 Democratic delegates from Texas are listed in the doubtful column.

SANDUSKY, O., May 23.—Walter Anderson, 25, Richmond, Ind., was burned to death and Benjamin Buser, 17, Sandusky, is in a serious condition at Good Samaritan hospital here, the result of an airplane crash at Sandusky airport today.

Anderson, professional aviator, came here ten days ago to re-enter the employ of Parker Brothers, proprietors of an aviation school. He had taken young Buser, student aviator, aloft for a lesson when the machine suddenly fell into a tail-spin at a height of about 1,500 feet, according to witnesses. The plane righted itself, again, spectators said, but his ground with terrific force and burst into flames. Buser was pulled from the wreckage by Luther Parker, one of the owners of the plane, but Anderson was pinioned in the cockpit and burned to a crisp.

The Buser youth was badly burned about the head, chest and arms. Hospital attaches were unable to predict his chances for recovery at noon.

Anderson who worked for the Parker Brothers last year, leaves a wife and several children, it is said.

MRS. W. T. PILGRIM DIES IN CANTON

Mrs. Cora Nevada Pilgrim, wife of William T. Pilgrim, former resident of East Liverpool, died yesterday in her home, 808 Dartmouth avenue, Canton, after a short illness of pneumonia.

Mrs. Pilgrim, who resided here until eight years ago, was a member of the Daughters of America and the Duesenberg Methodist Episcopal church.

Dampness is believed to have weakened the cornice.

PENNSY SEEKS TO ELIMINATE SECOND STREET RAIL CROSSING

Proposes Flashing Lights For Broadway Gates.

OFFER IS MADE

Willing to Pay Cost of Right of Way Job.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will reimburse the city for the cost of the right of way between East Second street and Broadway and pay one-half of the expense of improving the connection street if the city will permit the company to close the Second street crossing and substitute flashing lights for the gates at the Broadway crossing.

This was the offer submitted to council last night by H. T. Frushour, Cleveland, division engineer. Solons, with Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, City Engineer Clapsaddle, and Solicitor F. H. Hoover, will meet railroad company representatives at Hoover's office at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to discuss the proposal.

Surfacing of the connecting way between Second street and Broadway, contract for which was awarded last fall, has been halted pending the negotiations. If the offer is accepted the railroad company will construct a curb across the end of Second street to divert traffic to the Broadway crossing, the engineer explained. The installation of a "flasher" at the crossing would mean abandonment of the gates and discharge of a watchman.

Parking Measure Held Up. An ordinance, which is said to have the approval of the Columbiana County Motor club, prohibiting parking on more than a dozen down town streets and alleys, was laid over for two weeks after having been passed on Monday.

Service-Safety Director Moore explained that the parking ordinance had not been submitted to the safety department for its approval. Councilman Hughes offered a motion that the ordinance be tabled pending an investigation. This motion was lost when Solons Lindell, Ferguson, Fleming, Altman and A. C. Frost, who took his seat last night to fill out the unexpired term of the late L. M. Poole, voted against it. Councilman Green supported it.

Although this is the Pottery City's first attempt at a profit-sharing enterprise of this type, merchants are confident that buyers of this district will be eager to avail themselves of the opportunity offered Friday.

Representatives of 14 Boy Scout troops in East Liverpool, at a meeting in the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening, accepted the invitation extended by Mayor Benedum to take part in the exercises. Troops in Chester and Newell will also be asked to participate.

Members of city council and other city officials will also march, the invitation having been accepted last night.

SOLOM ALTMAN "FIRED" AFTER HIS VOTE FOR NARROW STREET

Benedum Alleges Board Member Changed Front.

LETTER EXPLAINS

"Glad to be Relieved" Says Deposed Man.

Because of his alleged "change of front" in the action of the two bodies on the proposed acceptance of the Adam & Craig subdivision near Riverview cemetery, Councilman-at-large Harry A. Altman was today ousted from the city planning commission by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum.

Mayor's Letter.

Altman, the mayor charged, supported the city planner's action recently when they accepted the Adam & Craig allotment on condition that Henry and Fisher avenues be connected with a 30-foot street. The ordinance, for which Altman voted at last night's meeting of council, provided for a 20-foot thoroughfare.

The mayor's letter to Altman removing him from office was as follows:

"Effective this date you are hereby relieved from further duty as a member of the East Liverpool planning commission and the vacancy thus created will be filled by a subsequent appointment."

"It is embarrassing to a degree that a change of front in the planning commission should be necessary. It is finally submitted to the council that a change in the personnel of the planning commission as per 1924 act, 204, is a 'change of front'."

The action indicated above is the best logical result of the circumstances as narrated.

Altman's Reply.

In a reply, questioning with the mayor, Altman said that he was "glad to be relieved from further duty as a member of the planning commission." Altman also charged the mayor with having "had a change of front on two occasions" with regard to the Adam and Craig allotment.

His letter reads: "In answer to your letter of May 22 I state that I am very glad to be relieved from further duty as a member of the Planning Commission. To my knowledge in the matter of the Adams and Craig allotment you have had a change of front on two occasions, but a change of front never seems to embarrass you."

In serving on this commission I have endeavored to be true to my convictions and to at all times do the thing which I felt proper under the particular circumstances and when it comes to the place where I cannot continue to so act, but instead am supposed and expected to be guided in my actions against my better judgment, then as above stated I am glad to be relieved as I know of no obligation I owe either to you or any real estate dealer in this city."

Mayor Benedum today had not announced a successor to Altman on the commission, but indicated the appointee would not be a solon. The make-up of the commission does not require a council member but this practice was started when the commission was formed, N. P. Kerr, then president of council, being named. When he retired from office Dec. 31, 1927, Solon Altman was appointed.

AMERICAN OFFERS BARTHELMESS HIT

Richard Barthelmess, whose character portrayals in "Way Down East," "Broken Blossoms," "Tolable David" and other classics, have won him the plaudits of millions, again demonstrates that he is one of the finest actors on the screen in his current vehicle, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" at the American theatre. Barthelmess was, perhaps, best loved in his "Tolable David" role. As Chad, the mountain boy in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," a picturization of John Fox, Jr.'s story of the Kentucky mountains, the star surprises even his most ardent admirers in a role that is comparable to "Tol-able David." In fact, in this picture he surpasses that role in many respects. When a barefoot mountain lad walks into an early scene in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" we have our first glimpse of a character that will live long in the hearts of Barthelmess followers. It was difficult to believe that this boy was Barthelmess. And the characterization that follows is a sincere, convincing piece of acting that stamps the star as a natural actor of unsurpassed ability.

$150,000 WILLED TO FAITHFUL DOG GOES TO OTHER CANINES

DENVER, May 23.—After being a "prince of a fellow" all his life, Shep, canine pal and sole friend of the late Fred H. Forrester, died here recently of old age—18 years. When Forrester died, a little more than a year ago, he willed almost his entire fortune, totalling to $150,000, to his dumb friend, Shep. He provided that the dog be taken care of until his death, and that all the money remaining in the legacy after Shep's death be bequeathed for the benefit of Colorado's dogdom. This will has been carried out in every detail by the trustee of the estate.

The State Humane Society and 24 relatives of Forrester are having a court battle over the estate. The relatives contend that the will was an outrage to public policy and they have carried their fight to the state supreme court. The Humane Society wish to retain the money for dumb animals.

When Forrester's body was found in his lonely house last March, Shep had been standing guard for several days, never leaving even for food or water.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is the story of a group of plain mountain folk living in the hills of Kentucky in the Civil war days. Into this group comes a homeless waif with his dog. The adventures which befall this boy make up a romance tense with drama and thrilling in the extreme. Through it all Barthelmess never for a moment wavers from his characterization.

Playing opposite Barthelmess is the clever young actress, Molly O'Day, who made such a sensational hit in her first dramatic role with the same star in "The Patent Leather Kid."

To see one of them in action. It can be done without jeopardizing the family fortune by going to see W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin in their Paramount team comedy, "Fools for Luck" now playing at the Ceramic Theatre. This scintillating comedy of the professional promoter's adventures in a small town is an entertainment masterpiece. It is a riot of fun from start to finish and the laughs are made more enjoyable by being woven into an interesting story that has its full quota of thrills as well as a dash of intriguing romance.

The picture shows Fields as a silver-tongued promoter who can make people scramble for the opportunity to turn over good money for worthless paper. Chester Conklin is shown as the leading citizen of a small town and an expert with a pool cue.

The pool game is only one of the many extremely amusing incidents which live in this sparkling comedy. There is a scene where Conklin, thinking he is getting into bed with his wife, climbs in with Fields. And Conklin is the last man in the world Fields wants to see.

TROTSKY NEVER CAN COME BACK SAYS KERENSKY

Former Soviet Leader
Withers Away in Turkistan Exile.

LACKED AUDACITY
Missed Chance to Jump
Into Lenin's Place.

PARIS.—"Trotsky is finished. If he had brushed aside everyone and jumped into the saddle when Lenin died he would have Russia in his grip today with military Communism. But Trotsky lost his chance. He can never come back."

This is the opinion of Alexander Kerensky, former dictator of Russia. Eleven years ago Kerensky had Trotsky arrested, but that time Trotsky "came back." Because he did not Kerensky was obliged to flee from Petrograd in the disguise of a sailor.

Withers in Exile.
Now it is reported, Trotsky has been left to wither away in a Turkistan exile. Kerensky who lives in the rue Vineuse, Paris, gave his impressions of his former adversary to the "Petit Journal."

"Trotsky" as an extremist through opportunism," he said. "One sentiment dominated him—hatred for England. This hatred caused him to destroy."

"Trotsky never knew how to do not even build up his own political career."

"He lacked audacity. When Lenin died Trotsky could have seized the power, but he did not dare to try. Since then the events he failed to master have crushed him."

Kerensky then told the paper that although he signed the arrest order for Trotsky following an uprising at Petrograd in July, 1917 he was not sure Trotsky took part in that movement. Kerensky was even reported as saying stories of Trotsky being an agent of the German general staff were myths.

"The arrest was merely an administrative measure," Kerensky explained. "I had Lenin pursued but when he hid himself in Finland we could not catch him. I did not liberate Trotsky. That was done by the judge who examined him and found that he did not participate in the pro-German riot. Perhaps that is true. I will not argue against a judicial decision."

Not a Liberal.
"I never believed Trotsky was mixed up in any German plot, because he protested against Berlin's demands, at Brest-Litovsk. While peace negotiations were underway Trotsky spouted with indignation, was clever enough to use Trotsky's oratory as a bluff."

"Many thought Trotsky was a liberal. Quite the contrary. He would have instituted military communism, but now he will never have another chance."

Carrying a sign, "We have traveled 3,000 miles looking for work. I have a wife and three children to support," a man was fined in Glasgow, Scotland, for taking his two children from Ireland to beg on the streets.

VATICAN STRIKES AT MUSSOLINI

LONDON, May 23.—In a note to the People's Noble Guard, an organization composed of aristocratic Italian fascists, Cardinal Gasparri, Papal secretary of state, has demanded that its members resign from the Catholic Centre party, according to Rome dispatches published in the Daily Telegraph today.

This action by the vatican is regarded as a retaliatory move against Premier Mussolini for his action in disbanding the Catholic Boy Scouts throughout Italy, the dispatches stated.

The Story of Certo

Now anyone, even without previous experience, can make the most delicious jams and jellies ever tasted—quickly, easily, and be certain of success every time! Certo makes this possible.

Before the advent of Certo, fruit jelly making in the home was a yearly adventure involving a good deal of worry and uncertainty because the principles or basic laws governing the art were not generally understood.

Today all the factors producing success or failure in jelly making are well known and may be summarized as follows. The physical characteristics of all fruit jellies are due to a jellifying substance present in the tissues of most fruits. This substance, rendered soluble by boiling, reacts with the acid of the fruit and sugar present to form the quivering, semi-solid delicacy known as fruit jelly. This change takes place only when, by adding sufficient sugar, or by long boiling, the percentage of sugar is raised to about 60%.

Without this jellifying substance in fruit, no jelly formation could take place and cooking fruit with sugar would yield only a thin syrup.

The old-fashioned uncertain way

In making jellies by the old-fashioned long-boiling process even the most experienced housekeepers find that, using the same kind of fruit in the same way, they get a jelly texture one time and a syrupy failure the next. The reason for this uncertainty is found in the fact that the jelly forming substance of fruit is constantly changing, always decreasing in quantity as the fruit ripens, so that the ripest fruit with the richest flavor is the least suitable for jelly making by the old long-boiling process.

Many delicious fruits, such as pineapple, do not contain any of this jellifying substance, or contain it in such small quantities that it is impossible to make jelly from them unless some of this jellifying element is added to make up this deficiency.

Very few fruits have enough of this jellifying substance to jelly all the juice they contain. That is why, by the old-fashioned method, the juice has to be "boiled down" until this jellifying element is concentrated enough to jelly the remaining juice.

The modern sure way

After years of research this elusive jelly making substance which Nature has distributed so unequally, has been extracted from fruits in which it is abundant—concentrated and highly refined so that today housewives everywhere can secure it from grocers in convenient bottled form under the trade-mark name "Certo", which designates the product made by the Certo Corporation. If Certo is made into a sparkling jelly with sugar and water alone, the jelly is practically colorless and flavorless, which proves that the addition of Certo to the most delicately flavored fruits does not affect their color or flavor.

Better color and flavor

The "Certo Short Process" has been evolved to produce a new standard of quality in jams and jellies. It does this by shortening the boiling time to 1 or 2 minutes, thus preserving the fresh fruit color and flavor, instead of boiling them away. By the old long-boiling process half of the fruit or fruit juice was boiled away, the bright color darkened and most of the fresh fruit flavor carried off as steam.

This explains why Certo recipes call for some extra sugar—simply to jelly the juice that formerly was boiled away as fragrant steam. This extra sugar is not an added expense but an economy; because for every extra pound of sugar used, a proportionate increase of jam or jelly is produced, of a better quality and containing less sugar than if made by the old methods.

By the Certo method the fragrance of the fresh fruit is sealed in the jelly jars for future enjoyment.

Jellied fruits should no longer be considered as luxuries, but as economical food staples to be used freely every day—they satisfy the natural desire for sweets and furnish them in a healthful and appetizing form, in an endless variety of flavor and color.

Your grocer has Certo. A booklet containing nearly 100 recipes for delicious jams, jellies and marmalades is under the label of each bottle. Get a bottle today.

A famous cooking expert recommends making all your jams and jellies with Certo. Note the reasons she gives below!

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery, and Cooking Editor of Woman's Home Companion, says of Certo:

"I strongly advise all housewives to make all their jams and jellies with Certo because:

It's easier—Takes only one minute's boiling.
Tastes better—No flavor boiled away.

Better Color—Not darkened by long boiling.

No worry—Never fails to set.

It's economical—Fifty per cent more from given amount of fruit and no waste from failures."

Three Honor Students

Signal tribute to the scholastic attainments of three members of the East Liverpool high school class of 1928 will be paid tomorrow night, when 147 students will receive diplomas at commencement exercises in the school auditorium.

The students to be thus honored will be Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Williams, near Elkton; Miss Melie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brand, West Third street, and Robert, son of C. L. Hicks, of Sugar street.

Mr. Williams, with an average of 94.94 per cent for the four-year course, is the first honor pupil of the class, while Miss Brand, whose average was but sixty-two hundredths of one per cent, less than young Williams, stood second in her class. Young Hicks, by vote of the high school faculty, has been recognized as the student who "made the greatest effort" to complete his course.

The three students worked hard for their honors, but the reward was worth the effort. It is a safe wager they will make their marks when they go out to face the world.

Poland's Three Capitals

Poland has three capitals, perhaps a fair allowance for one country, which, measured by American standards, is not large. Technically, there is but one. Practically, economically, in every contemporary fashion, Warsaw plays the double role of ruling and running the business of the new country.

Vilna at the north and Cracow at the south remain the capitals of history, tradition, literature and romance. The former, watching the marches toward Russia, Lithuania and the Courland, has been the advance guard of Polish expansion. It was the point of union between Poland and Lithuania, when the federation of the east created a great power which ruled from the Black Sea to the Baltic. Today it has resumed its great mission.

Cracow, on the other hand, lives in a past which has been little troubled by invasion. As a republic it preserved a slender shadow of liberty for thirty years after the rest of Poland was put under foreign domination. Twenty years after Hapsburg bayonets crushed out the republic, the exigencies of Austrian domestic politics led Vienna to concede to the Poles not only all of Cracow, but all of Galicia.

An autonomy which enabled them to keep alive their national spirit, their language, their traditions, while Russia and Prussia were smashing both Poland and Posenania, was virtually what the concession really amounted to.

For every Pole, Cracow is what Athens was for the Greeks and the Wawel, where all but the last Polish kings lie buried, is quite as much symbol for them as the Acropolis for Greece. As a city, Cracow ranks as one of the most ancient, romantic and attractive in all the east of Europe.

Its church, buildings, monuments, having escaped the destructive invasions which ravaged Vilna and Warsaw, have been spared less savagery of the foreign masters, who elsewhere sought to blot out the last suggestion of a free Poland, give a certain sense of continuity in Polish history.

In Cracow, among people who have never been compelled to abandon their language, who have known practically political liberty since 1866, one has a real sense of a permanent Poland.

Warsaw is a busy, eager, perhaps a little pushful capital, of a state which has just regained liberty. Vilna is a battlefield, where at least three races clash. But Cracow is just calmly Polish, happily situated at a distance from any frontier which might be regarded as impervious.

In a certain fashion Cracow recalls Washington, a Washington mellowed by five or six centuries of history, colored by the romance of royalty, adorned with the monument of the great periods of European architecture, but a city like Washington, preserved through all its existence from the inroads and material prosperity based upon trade and commerce.

Like the American capital, Cracow is without manufactures or big business, and unlike Washington, it is spared the disturbing presence of governmental servants and machinery.

The Smoking Baby

The limit of smoking precocity seems to have been reached in the case of Freddie Riggs of Seattle. Any mother will admit that Freddie is the limit. He is not yet four years old, and he smokes cigars.

"For heaven's sake, why don't they stop him?" Well, here's the queerest part of it. His parents and family doctor are not sure they ought to stop him. Tobacco seems to be good for him.

Freddie started his tobacco career by chewing on a pipe when he was 10 months old. Before, he had been a weak and undernourished baby, with no appetite. After chewing that old pipe a little while he began to eat, and gained weight. He and the pipe were inseparable. He cut his teeth on it. Then, when he was a year old, he got hold of some cigars and began chewing them. Soon afterward, he succeeded in lighting one, and from then on was a confirmed smoker.

Everytime his tobacco is taken away from him, he stops eating. With regular tobacco rations, he thrives. His parents have finally settled down to allowing him one cigar a day, after his supper.

His physician says there must be some peculiar condition in Freddie's physical system that makes him crave tobacco. He says he can't understand a child's system needing nicotine. Unprofessional grown-up smokers may have less difficulty in understanding it.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—At Cullon, in the Philippines, medical science is working a miracle that has been awaited down the ages. The leper is being cleansed; and the story of how this miracle has been brought about is destined to constitute one of the most brilliant chapters in the history of public health.

As is often the case, nature herself provided the cure for this terrible disease, leaving to man the problem of finding and adapting it. Chaulmoogra oil, which is being used on an extensive scale and with admirable results in the colony at Cullon, is expressed from the seeds of the hydnocarpus tree which grows abundantly in the islands, as well as in Siam, Burma, and India.

Its curative properties were first noticed when scientists found in India a community infested with leprosy in which none of the victims seemed to have reached an advanced stage. Study revealed that the inhabitants made a practice of chewing the nuts of the hydnocarpus tree, as other people in the tropics chew the betel nut. This discovery led to experiments and, ultimately, a derivative was produced which could be administered satisfactorily.

The late Governor General Wood deserves much credit for the splendid achievement at Cullon. He was touched by the miserable conditions prevailing at the colony at the time of his arrival in the islands and became vitally interested in alleviating the condition of the lepers. At his instigation the colony was placed on a medical basis. He enlisted the sympathy and cooperation of the Philippine government in his plan to improve conditions and it was he who introduced chaulmoogra as a possible cure in 1922.

It is not too early to measure the results of the work which he launched. Reports from the islands show that since the drug was first put into use on an extensive scale, in 1924, more than one thousand lepers have been cured, or negatived, and allowed to return to their homes.

During 1926, the last year for which tabulated figures are available, 114 lepers were given their final discharge as cured; 219, who had become negatived, were paroled; and 217 others were awaiting parole. Approximately 90 per cent of all patients who had been treated showed a marked improvement. Negatived lepers can not communicate the disease; but, during the time they are on parole, they are required to report for periodical examinations to the health authorities.

Ultimate eradication of the disease, of course, will depend on a great deal upon preventive measures, the protection of the healthy from contact with leprosy persons, and the improvement of health conditions in general. Of primary importance also is early diagnosis of the disease, since a cure is much more likely to be effected when treatment is begun before an advanced stage has been reached.

To this end a plan has been worked out which, when it can be put into practice, to all its details, will be fifteen years, it is believed, make leprosy as rare in the Philippines as it is in the United States.

This plan includes the establishment of local detention and treatment stations in several parts of the islands, with clinics and dispensaries, where the people may come for diagnosis and treatment. When the local stations have been established and put on an operating basis, it will not be necessary to send lepers in the early stages, who seem to be progressing well under treatment, to the colony.

Cullon, however, will have to be maintained for many years as a sanctuary for incurable and far advanced cases, and it is believed that such people can be much happier there among those afflicted as they are, living practically normal lives in a leper municipality.

The colony is not much the place of dread it was in earlier days, for many improvements have been made, but much remains to be done and the people there, though they now have hope, can never be quite happy. Some of them live in dormitories and some have their own cottages and live as families. They are permitted to marry, for leprosy is not hereditary, but their children are taken from them almost immediately, to safeguard them from contracting the disease later.

Q. What is the general content of the recent bill introduced into Congress for an increase in number of appointments to the Naval Academy? N. G. F.

A. The Naval Appropriations Bill which has passed Congress provides an allowance of four midshipmen for each Senator, Representative, and delegate in Congress, and of four midshipmen from Porto Rico, instead of the former allowance of three.

Q. Is the temperature used by the Weather Bureau "shade temperature"? W. R. B.

A. The temperatures given out by the United States Weather Bureau are the readings of good thermometers exposed to free circulation of the atmosphere in a shelter that screens off both direct and reflected sunshine. This is the true temperature of the air, whether in shade or in sunshine. If the thermometer read 100 degrees in the shade, it would read more if exposed to the sunshine, but how much more would depend on the time of day, time of year, location (latitude, height above sea level, distance from ocean or lake, etc.), kind of thermometer, direction of wind, and, above all else, strength of wind. Under certain conditions, especially in a strong wind, the difference would be very small, perhaps at times barely measurable. In stagnant air, the difference might be anything up to 50 degrees or more! but such readings would indicate the temperature of the thermometer, not that of the air.

Q. How many Bibles does the American Bible Society distribute in a year? L. L.

A. In 1927, there were 10,034,797 copies published. This included entire Bibles or part of the Bible, and embraced publications in 166 languages and dialects.

Q. When were celluloid collars first made? R. C.

A. A patent for such a device was issued in 1878. The material used was composed of a celluloid composition, cemented to a piece of cotton cloth, the cloth being placed between the two veneers of the thin composition sheets. In 1879, the manufacture began of the celluloid collar made of solid stock, approximately 20,000ths of an inch thick.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The chief reason for the night club debacle—and it still debacles—was not due entirely to sneering at suckers who pay $1.50 for a six-cent bottle of gingerale and a two-dollar fee for the privilege of drinking it. The big blow was the private home bar.

Most well-regulated establishments in New York now have their own bars, and "playing saloon" is a favored indoor pastime. Thus more or less hectic parties have been transferred to privacy from those public haunts where derbied gents were likely to pounce in swarming raiding axes.

Real old-fashioned bars are acquiring the commercial value of rare paintings, and two factories in Jersey are devoted entirely to turning out new ones of all sizes. Some are tiny affairs so mechanically contrived that they disappear at the push of a gadget.

In one Park Avenue drawing room, the occupant can brush aside a floor rug, touch a button, and a section of the floor slides back to reveal a circular stairway leading to an elegantly equipped bar. Another bar is in an apartment house tower.

It can only be reached by a private elevator. The lift is unlatched by the correct manipulation of a combination lock, such as those on safes. Entrance to still other whoopsie-daisies may be through what looks like an innocent bookcase section, but which is a cute sliding door.

Many of the bars attempt to ape the jovial rowdiness of the swing-door saloon. There are frosted mirrors, noisets of spices, orange peel and other halfhearted destroyers, conspirators with yawning necks, sawdust on the floor, and nude pictures on the wall.

The most colorful bar is reported to be in the mansion of Peggy Joyce, the gem collector. It is so picturesquely equipped, the report says, that even bartenders with roached locks, bicycle handlebar mustaches and huge sparkling scarf studs are on duty. The illusion ends abruptly. I am told, for Miss Joyce serves only soft drinks.

There is a mild cigarette manufactured in Boston, especially favored by New England ladies who smoke. A Boston lady tells of stepping into a drug store on Sixth Avenue to inquire for a package.

"Certainly," replied the clerk, and she was piloted into the rear through a door into a well-equipped bar. Recovering from her bewilderment, she explained she was seeking cigarettes, and not a drink. Then it developed the secret pass word to the bar was the same as the name of the cigarettes.

I just turned to the "Help Wanted" columns of a morning newspaper, after reading of a big ball held by the Bartenders' Union. There were a string of ads. of which the following is typical:

"Wanted—Experienced drink mixer. One who has had experience dating back to ten or twelve years ago preferred. Private family."

We who squeezed out a salty tear for the plight of the old-time bartender might have saved it for another Helen Morgan night club raid or something. The old-time bartender can find a job in a speakeasy any time, and double, and sometimes triple his former salary. In addition his freedom in short changing is greater. The hush-hut patrons are usually too pleyced to squawk. And few would go to court to press a gyping charge.

But the silliest of all the drink-mixing do-dads comes from London. It is a silk hat with a crown completely equipped with tiny flasks to hold the ingredients of a cocktail, as well as a diminutive shaker. Now I ask you!

A school to teach gentlemen the proper art of walking has opened in the Grand Central district. "A graceful walk is the most distinguishing thing about a gentleman," says a huge sign over the doorway. That completely discourages one whose natural gait is that of a fellow who has just had a long ride on a camel.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Every week or so some young mother writes to ask advice about weaning her baby. She wants to know how to decide when it is time to take the infant off the breast and to give it the bottle.

The best evidence of this necessity is found, not in the time of year, but in the baby himself. If he is prospering and the mother is well, the breast feeding may continue. If all goes well it should be continued.

A normal, healthy infant gains from six ounces to a half pound in weight every week for the first year. Later, the gain is not so great. It may not exceed from three ounces to six ounces every week. So long as the child makes consistent gain, in about this ratio, there is no occasion to worry. All is well.

A healthy child sleeps most of the time. He is apt to fall asleep during his feeding or immediately afterward. During the first half year of life he will be likely to sleep 20 hours every day. That is good for him.

If the feeding is ample and of good quality, the bowels act regularly. There will be no gas formation and no distress. Vomiting and severe crying are absent.

I wouldn't give a cent for a baby that never cried. There is something wrong with a vocally silent infant, just as there is with one that cries most of the time. The average expectation of crying in a healthy child is the sum total of an hour a day.

I have told you how to tell whether or not the infant is prospering. The reverse of the condition I have mentioned will warn you that the child is not doing well. Then, of course, bottle feeding must be considered.

Prettiness, crying, moaning and vocal protests for hours at a time are signs of trouble. Biting and crying during nursing are pretty sure signs of the lack of a nourishing supply of milk.

Vomiting or over-frequent stools, and general appearance of ill-health are other evidences of the need of better feeding. These should not be overlooked.

Perhaps the best reason for taking

Other Editors Say

At Their Own Risk.

Congressman Rathbone of Kent worth, Ill., has proposed a resolution in the house declaring the attitude of the government toward private loans made by American investors to foreign nations.

Its purpose is to inform as fairly and fully as possible all citizens of the United States, who may contemplate making loans or advances to foreign governments or their political subdivisions or citizens, that the United States will not intervene, nor take any steps that might lead to war or to intervention, for the purpose of enabling such creditors to collect their debts.

It is believed that the time has been reached when it is of great importance that such an open declaration should be made. During and since the World war the foreign investments of this country and its citizens have been piling up at a tremendous and unprecedented rate. With every dollar that has gone abroad for purposes of investment, it is realized by all thinking persons that there has arisen added danger of foreign complications.

The resolution recites that it is not well for this country, nor for the individuals concerned, to be left in doubt as to what our policy will be. Before we realized it, we have found that we were involved in the affairs of foreign nations and in several instances have finally been led to intervene by armed force.

If this problem were adopted no doubt American investors would be rendered more cautious in the matter of foreign loans and would not attempt to make use of the United States government as a collector. —Akron Beacon Journal.

I've Come Back to Buy

... I couldn't find anything that stacks up with today's Chandler

THAT'S the way it goes. The more that people look around, the more they recognize, appreciate and want the exclusive features and qualities of today's Chandler.

New Sixes and new Royal Eights of magnificent smartness—and chock-full of mighty Pikes Peak power.

More Power than Ever

Power that's absolutely remarkable. High-velocity power. Performance that has everything within hundreds of the price tagging behind in traffic and on the hills.

And with its new Westinghouse Vacuum Brakes, today's Chandler has them all stopped for stopping!

Real Safety Brakes

In modern driving, especially in traffic, there's a crying need for these quick-acting engine-power brakes.

Just a light tiptoe touch on the pedal brings today's Chandler to a quick, even, "cushioned" stop—three times easier and safer than is possible with mechanical or hydraulic brakes that depend entirely upon a driver's physical strength.

And another wonderful thing about Chandler is its "One Shot" centralized lubricating system. Push a plunger with your foot—and quicker than saying it, the chassis lubricates itself from end to end, automatically.

Last Word in Lubrication

No uncertainty. No fuss. No bother. No time out. No expense.

It's some automobile—in set-up, in get-up—in beauty, in behavior—in quality, features, everything.

A new Special Six Sedan, $995; a new Invincible Six Sedan, $1085; a new Big Six Metropolitan Sedan, $1525; a new Royal Eight Sedan, $1995—all prices f. o. b. factory. A total of thirty fashionable models. Come see, come drive, compare.

Treasurer Johnson Exonerated By Gore

Charges of "Official Misconduct" Against State Official are Dismissed by Governor.

Charges of "official misconduct" filed against State Treasurer W. S. Johnson by John C. Bond, former state auditor, were dismissed yesterday by Governor Howard M. Gore after Attorney General B. Lee submitted a report finding them "without merit."

"After reviewing the report of the attorney general in connection with the charges and answer of Treasurer Johnson thereto," Governor Gore's statement, as given out at his office said "it would appear from the facts before me that I am not warranted or justified in proceeding under the law bearing thereon."

The attorney general, against whom somewhat similar charges were filed by Bond, submitted a detailed report of the "new" charges made against the state treasurer by the former state auditor recently convicted of misuse of state funds while in office and sentenced to six years' imprisonment. In each specification, five in number, Lee held that the charges were "without merit." Johnson had previously filed a lengthy reply to the charges denying them in detail. "The time when the charges were filed," Lee's report said, "the political significance attached thereto and the well known ill-feeling had by the proponent of the charges against the treasurer, makes an immediate report necessary." The attorney general, who like Johnson is a candidate for the Republican nomination for reelection, called the attention of the governor to "old charges" made against Johnson by Bond and his answer to them and confined his report in the present case to the "new" charges.

They involved allegations that Johnson maintained offices of a private corporation in the treasurer's office; that he built a "small" garage at the expense of the state; that he carried two persons on his payroll who rendered no service to the state; that payments made to a clerk for the sinking fund commission were illegal and that Johnson improperly paid three items, totaling $136.89, out of his appropriation for printing.

Department Buyers for 112 Great Stores insist on Lux for their OWN things

The greatest group of experts ever consulted

92% of the Department Store Buyers interviewed in 112 of the most important stores in America insist on Lux for their own precious things!

Imagine what this means! These women are the buyers of women's and children's dresses, blouses, underthings, hosiery, gloves, for the great stores which do three-fourths of all the department store business in the United States.

Experts in Clothes
They are paid huge salaries because of their sure knowledge of fabrics and styles.

For the first time, hundreds of these experts in big cities from Boston to Los Angeles have given their opinion about the best way to cleanse today's clothes and modern, sheer fabrics.

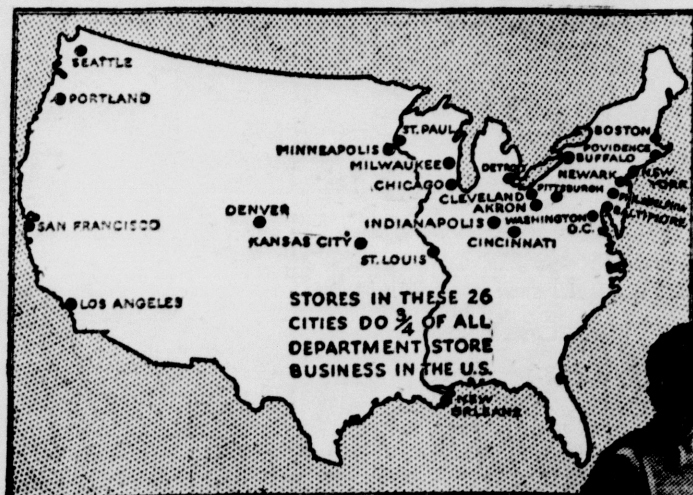

Interviewed in their own departments of leading stores in 26 cities, they told just how their own nice things are taken care of.

And their verdict was well-nigh unanimous!

92% of these experts insist on Lux!

Knowing clothes and fabrics, and the importance of the right method of cleansing, these experts will take no chances!

Like women everywhere, the women who buy for America's great stores—buy the charming clothes that the women of America wear—overwhelmingly insist upon safe cleansing with Lux!

ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES, from coast to coast, successful women buyers, heads of their own departments in the big stores of the 26 cities shown above, told frankly how they cared for their own things. For sheer stockings, delicate underthings, sweaters, charming frocks, gloves, 92% of these clothes experts—92 out of every 100 interviewed—insist on Lux!

DEPARTMENT STORES send their women buyers to New York and Paris to select smart clothes. The above picture, an actual scene in a New York showroom, illustrates how buyers select the clothes you see in the stores.

Like the department store buyers, women everywhere trust their nice things to LUX. For women have found, as the great motion picture studios—the New York musical shows—have proved by test, that washing with Lux doubles the life of fabrics! Pure Lux has none of the harmful alkali found in many soaps, whether flakes, chips or cakes—nothing to weaken delicate fibres, fade nice colors.

PRETTY GIRLS - SINGING - DANCING

WASN'T INTENDED TO BEAUTIFY PEOPLE, BUT IT DOES

Remarkable Results Follow the Taking of the Wonderful World's Tonic.

"For years I had suffered from indigestion. The effects were marked, for while I am yet a young woman, I grew painfully thin, the color left my skin, and it became sallow and ugly, and my eyes lost their sparkle and grew so weak I had to wear glasses. What was the matter, and I didn't feel like going out with other young people at all. Finally my grocer told me he had been wonderfully helped by World's Tonic, and urged me to get a bottle. He said he thought I had catarrh. I guess he was right, for about the first effect of this wonderful medicine was to clear up my head. In a few days my appetite increased, and I felt much better. After two bot-ties my skin began to clear up, and the pink showed through. At the end of three bottles I commenced to gain in weight.

"Now people comment on my improvement. My skin is clear and rosy, my eyes are bright, and I have gained twenty pounds. I didn't consume World's Tonic as a beautifier, but in addition to relieving my catarrh, it has done more for me than all the face creams, mud packs, etc., that I have ever used.

That is the story told by a young woman who visited Carnahan's drug store Monday.

World's Tonic will help you. It is sold by Carnahan's, also C. N. Brannan's, Wellsville and all other reliable druggists.—(276).

Two Facts About Brick Paving

of financial interest to any Taxpayer

Weather usually starts what traffic merely finishes, in destroying pavement.

Paving materials not specially made to prevent it, absorb water. This sets up injurious chemical change—or, freezing, expands and destroys. And paving surfaces, not designed to have resilience, suffer from traffic punishment.

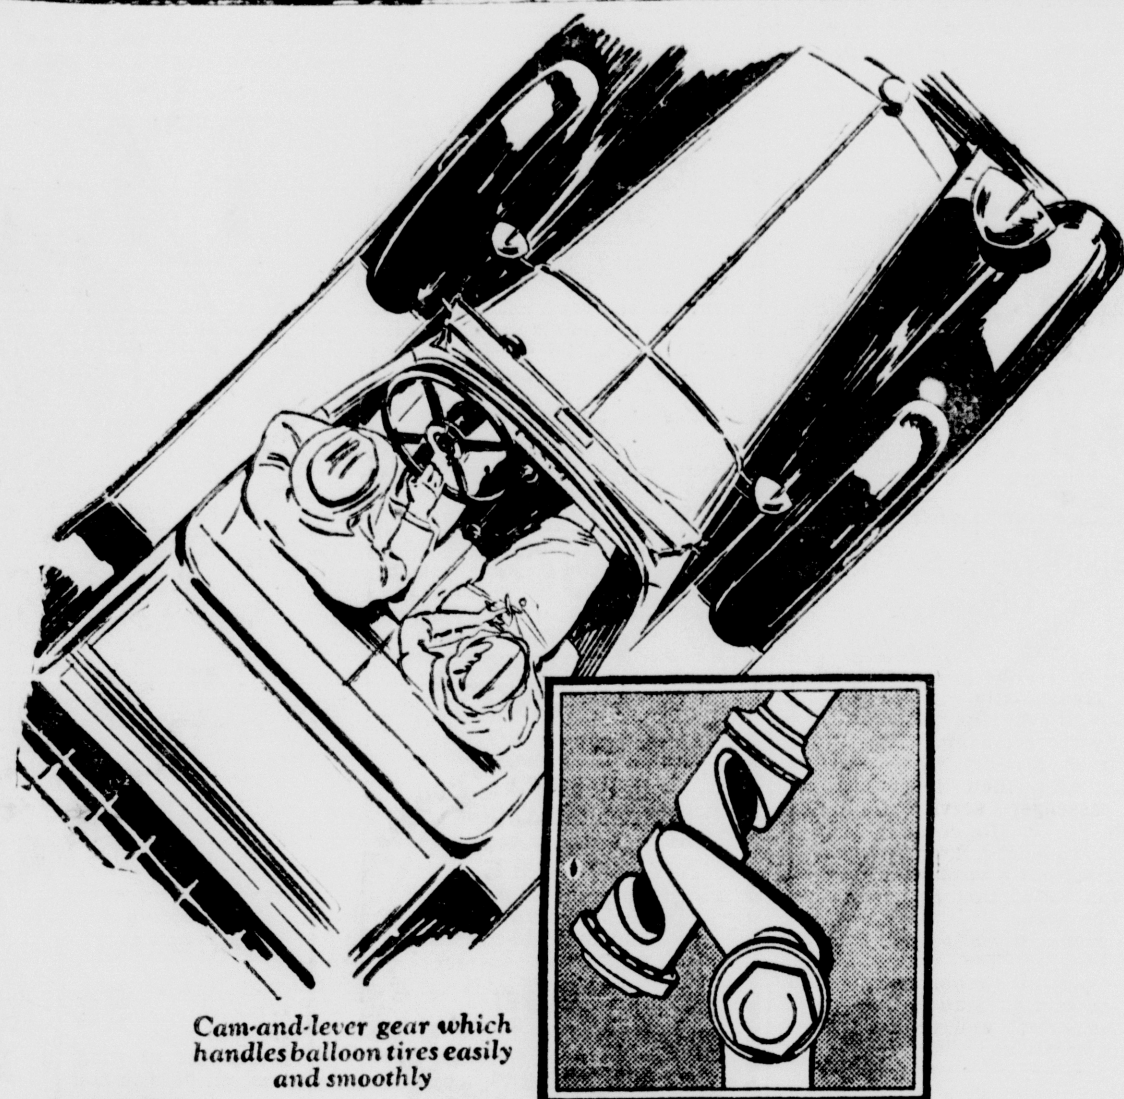

Paving brick, being vitrified, is unchanging. It does not change chemically; does not soften. It does not absorb water. Laid on any good base, with sand cushion, and bound with asphalt, it is a flexible surface—one which water does not penetrate.

Nothing can wear out this toughest of all surfaces. And it protects the base from weather and traffic. Wherever brick pavements are, low cost records prove this.

"The A. B. C. of Good Paving," a taxpayer's manual, tells in words and pictures how engineers today build ever-wearing, low cost, brick surfaced roads and streets. Address your request to National Paving Brick Manufacturers Association, 332 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Rumors which were abroad regarding Queen Victoria of Spain, above, were effectually killed by the Vatican. It was rumored that King Alfonso was seeking an annulment, but the Vatican authorities decreed that the marriage of sovereigns was surrounded by such well known guarantees that it was almost impossible to find faults which would make annulment feasible. INDIANA GIRL WINS NATIONAL SPELLING BEE

Ohio Maiden Loses When Spells "Knack" Without "K."

DETROIT THIRD

"Bacillus," "Magic," "Occurred" and "Mid-day" Unlucky Words.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Girls all ways were the best spellers, anyway. They proved it again in the national spelling bee, annually conducted by a group of newspapers in various parts of the country, by finishing one, two, three.

Betty Robinson, representing the South Bend News-Times, won the national title and the prize of $1,000. She spelled "knack" after Pauline Gray of West Salem, Ohio, representing the Akron Beacon-Journal, had failed to include the "K" in the word. Pauline was second and won $500.

Bessy Doig of Detroit, won third place. The word "Bacillus" proved Bessy's undoing. She thought there were two C's in it.

Anna Murphy of New Britain, Conn., tripped over "magic." Edna Malark of Youngstown, Ohio, stumbled on "occurred."

Abram Belanger of New Bedford, Mass., failed on the word "Midday" and his feminine opponents all giggled, much to Abram's discomfiture.

There were 23 contestants in the national bee.

METHODISTS FAIL TO NAME BISHOPS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 23.—Ballooning at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will continue today in an effort to elect three new bishops.

The result of the first ballot, announced today, failed to elect.

The election of a bishop requires a two-thirds majority. There were 818 votes cast. Of 52 candidates the leaders in the balloting were:

Dr. R. J. Wade, Chicago, 281 votes; J. W. Gray, Scranton, Pa., 182; Dr. Merton S. Rice, Detroit, 153.

OHIOAN HANGS HIMSELF IN JAIL

MARION, O., May 23.—The body of Samuel Topper, 60, of Toledo, who hanged himself in a cell in the county jail, where he was placed at his own request last night, was to be taken to Toledo today.

The aged man appealed to Marion police yesterday for protection, voicing a fear that "some one" was after him and sought to harm him. He was taken to the county jail.

Late last night Sheriff James Deal found the man dead, his body suspended by a belt around his throat, attached to the cell bars.

Vetoes Farm Bill

and then he proceeded at length to outline and explain his reasons for again disapproving it.

"The bill," he said "contains not only the so-called equalization fee and other features of the old measure prejudicial, in my opinion, to sound public policy and to agriculture, but also new and highly objectionable provisions.

"In its entirety, it is little less undesirable than the earlier measure. The bill still is unconstitutional. This position is supported by the opinion of the attorney general."

Uses Strong Terms.

The veto message which President Coolidge sent to congress a year ago on the first McNary-Haugen bill denounced the measure in the strongest terms Mr. Coolidge ever used in a public paper, and the message today repeated most of those arguments and added new ones.

"Cruelly deceptive to the farmer," "fantastic," "unworkable," "price-fixing fallacy," "encouragement to profiteering," "wasteful of public funds," "governmental spying and poisoning,"—these were but a few of the stinging descriptions applied to the measure by Mr. Coolidge in the course of his long message, despite the endorsement of the bill by such economic authorities as Vice-president Dawes, Frank O. Lowden, and others who were instrumental in pushing it through congress.

Six Specific Objections.

Generally, the president said, he had six specific objections to the measure.

"A detailed analysis of all the objections," his message stated "would involve a document of truly formidable proportions. However its major weaknesses and perils may be summarized under six headings.

"1. Its attempted price-fixing fallacy.

"2. The tax characteristics of the equalization fee.

"3. The widespread bureaucracy it would set up.

"4. Its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen.

"5. Its stimulation of over-production.

"6. Its aid to our foreign agricultural competitors."

"These topics," he continued, "by no means exhaust the list of fallacious and dangerous aspects of the bill, but they afford ample ground for its emphatic rejection."

FINDS "BUYER"

Beatrice Albert, 19, of Siren, Wis., who offered herself in marriage in exchange for $5,000 for her parents, has found a "buyer." He is W. W. Goyers of Milwaukee, a Spanish war vet, who offers to marry or adopt her.

IN Shelby county, Tex., "Buddy" Evin, colored, was hanged to the limb of a tree, same limb, same tree on which another Negro was hanged five years ago.

"BUDDY" is accused of shooting a white man.

It is not for people living in the North to ask why the white mob insisted on hanging the Negro, instead of leaving that work to the hangman. Afraid he might escape, perhaps.

WEIGHT has its advantages. Fallstaff to the contrary notwithstanding Mrs. Myra Huddleston, of Mattoon, Ill., has broken the world's record for long swimming. She swam 50 hours, beating any other woman's record by an entire day, and beating the best masculine record by four hours.

MRS. HUDDLESTON weighed 210 pounds when she started, 20 pounds less when she finished. Skinny girls and women, you need not weigh 240, but you should be ashamed to cut down your vitality for the sake of an ugly, bony figure.

Bleiminger, head of the research department of the Homer Laughlin China company. Newell, whose subject will be "Some Physical Facts in Relation to Ceramic Production." The talks, it is explained, will deal in a general way with the technical, mechanical and commercial development of the white ware industry. Tariff matters will also be discussed.

NOBILE BLIMP STARTS SECOND HOP FOR POLE

Italia Leaves King's Bay for Frozen Arctic.

CREW IS CHEERED

Attempt Will be Made to Land in Uncharted Wastes.

KING'S BAY, Spitzbergen, May 23.—Bound for the North Pole on its second venture over the uncharted wastes of the frozen arctic, the dirigible Italia left its base here at 4:40 a. m. today.

Although weather conditions were not perfect, General Umberto Nobile, commander of the ship, felt that they were sufficiently favorable to allow him to start.

As the huge silver-sheened craft nosed its way upward through a murky haze, the crew of the supply ship Citta Di Milano, and natives who had come miles to watch the dirigible's departure, cheered enthusiastically and wished the intrepid air-voyagers Godspeed.

Before starting, General Nobile announced that he first planned to cruise to the top of Greenland, from there, he said, he would head for the North Pole.

Just before Nobile climbed into the control car of the Italia, the padre of the Citta Di Milano blessed the cross which will be dropped from the ship when it reaches the pole.

Nobile and his crew of 15 smiled confidently and waved to their well-wishers as the ship sailed slowly into space. It soon gathered speed and altitude and after some fifteen or twenty minutes it disappeared in the clouds.

When the Italia reaches the pole, it is expected an attempt will be made to land several members of the crew to make scientific observations, if weather conditions permit.

MERCHANT MARINE BILL IS SIGNED

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge today signed the Jones White merchant Marine bill.

This measure authorizes extensive replacements of government vessels. Increases the construction loan fund from $125,000,000 to $250,000,000, re-affirms the general shipping policy of the 1921 act, liberalizes ocean mail contracts, and makes all merchant marine personnel eligible for the naval reserve and two months' reserve pay without actual service.

AMERICAN-BORN SETS GOLF PACE

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 23.—Douglas Grant, American-born British golfer competing for the British amateur championship, moved another step nearer the title today when he defeated J. Gordon Simpson, English contender, three and two.

Two other Americans, John McHugh and Harry V. Bower, were eliminated today.

sion which requires a three-fourths majority.

Construction of an underground coal bin in Crook alley adjoining the George Ingram building also caused a discussion in council. Ingram, who attended the meeting, stated that the improvement had been made without a permit from the city, the job having been supervised by City Engineer Clapsaddle.

Pass Two Ordinances.

Service Safety Director Moore defended Ingram's action, declaring modern building construction provides for excavated sidewalks for which no action on the part of council is necessary. He stated that the concrete covering over the coal bin was strong enough to support a load of 72 tons.

Solicitor Hoover explained that the coal bin should be authorized by a franchise, approved by city council, to safeguard the city from damages. The matter was referred to the franchise committee for investigation.

Ordinance for the grading and paving of Palissey street between Pennsylvania avenue and Atruria street was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. Another measure providing for the issuance of $2,740.40 to pay the city's share of the cost of improving Palissey street and Sutton alley was passed on three readings. Approval of the legal notice for assessment in the improvement of St. Clair avenue between Young's alley and the Croxall property was voted.

Removal of a garage, said to be owned by Thomas Leak, and occupying a part of Ferguson alley at Bradshaw avenue, was ordered upon motion of Councilman T. P. Ferguson.

DR. W. O. HAWKINS LEADS PASTORS

Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was elected president of the Ministerial Association at a recent meeting. He succeeds Rev. A. H. O'Brien, Rev. L. J. Davidson, of the First United Presbyterian church, was named vice president, while Rev. Edgar Walker, of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, was elected secretary-treasurer.

No further meetings of the association will be held until September.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 23.—The airplane stocks and the motors were the leaders in a brisk rally of stock prices in the early trading today. Curtis and Wright Aero responded with 10 point jumps to the official announcement of Col. Lindbergh's affiliation with the Transcontinental Air Transport Inc., as technician. These advances restored about half of yesterday's losses and the stocks were active in the first period. General Motors rose 2 1/2 points in the lead of the motor shares.

Weekly freight car loadings topped the million mark in the last period reported by the American Railway Association and showed an advance of 22,300 cars over the previous week. The business and industrial reports were generally favorable, the building construction contracts the largest of any month in American history. Copper and oil prices were firm, with active buying the domestic market.

Many of the big traders were again ready to buy stocks. General Motors and American Can carried the burden of the advance in the market favorites, Motors selling above 188 and Can at 90, up 1 1/2. Studebaker and Chrysler recovered about 2 points each. International Nickel rose 3 and Radio 3 1/2.

OPEN HIGHWAY TO WELLSVILLE

Resume Auto Traffic on Inter-city Road.

Street car and automobile traffic along the Wellsville-East Liverpool highway between Brady's and Jethro, partially cut off by the effects of Saturday night's rain storm, was restored to normalcy last night.

Street cars this morning were using both eastbound and westbound tracks while the barriers to vehicular traffic over the road were lifted last night following the removal of several large slides.

Eastbound street car track was badly washed out in several places. These were filled up sufficiently to permit the resumption of traffic today.

BUS COMPANY NAMED IN SUITS

Two suits for $25,000 damages each have been filed in common pleas court against the Steubenville and Canton Transportation company by Homer Simpson of Salineville and his wife, Mae Simpson. Petitions have been filed by Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool for the plaintiffs.

The petition relates that March 7, last, when one of the coaches of the defendant company stopped at Salineville, a door closed upon the right hand of Mrs. Simpson, crushing the fingers. She had been engaged as a seamstress and a paper hanger, the petition shows, and is now not able to continue her work as such.

REPAIR PUMP AT SIXTH STREET

The new Sixth street pump has prevented a lot of "pore'd" throats during the past three days, with the city's domestic supply of water filled with mud as a result of Saturday's storm.

The heavy rain stirred up the dam and as a result, spigots poured forth a heavy, muddy water. Service Director George Imbrie was out early Sunday morning and installed brand new pump on the well in Sixth street and it has been going almost constantly since then.

City forces are engaged this week in washing and cleaning up streets in general.

Work will be resumed soon on Clark avenue improvements.

INDIANA GIRL WINS NATIONAL SPELLING BEE

Ohio Maiden Loses When Spells "Knack" Without "K."

DETROIT THIRD

"Bacillus," "Magic," "Occurred" and "Mid-dy" Unlucky Words.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Girls all ways were the best spellers, anyway. They proved it again in the national spelling bee, annually conducted by a group of newspapers in various parts of the country, by finishing one, two, three.

Betty Robinson, representing the South Bend News-Times, won the national title and the prize of $1,000. She spelled "knack" after Pauline Gray of West Salem, Ohio, representing the Akron Beacon-Journal, had failed to include the "K" in the word. Pauline was second and won $500.

Bessy Doig of Detroit, won third place. The word "Bacillus" proved Bessy's undoing. She thought there were two C's in it.

Anna Murphy of New Britain, Conn., tripped over "magic." Edna Malark of Youngstown, Ohio, stumbled on "occurred."

Abram Belanger of New Bedford, Mass., failed on the word "Mid-dy" and his feminine opponents all giggled, much to Abram's discomfort. There were 23 contestants in the national bee.

METHODISTS FAIL TO NAME BISHOPS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 23.—Balloting at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will continue today in an effort to elect three new bishops.

The result of the first ballot, announced today, failed to elect. The election of a bishop requires a two-thirds majority. There were 818 votes cast. Of 52 candidates the leaders in the balloting were:

Dr. R. J. Wade, Chicago, 281 votes; J. W. Gray, Scranton, Pa., 183; Dr. Merton S. Rice, Detroit, 152.

OHIOAN HANGS HIMSELF IN JAIL

MARION, O., May 23.—The body of Samuel Topper, 60, of Toledo, who hanged himself in a cell in the county jail, where he was placed at his own request last night, was to be taken to Toledo today.

The aged man appealed to Marion police yesterday for protection, voicing a fear that "some one" was after him and sought to harm him. He was taken to the county jail.

Late last night Sheriff James Deal found the man dead, his body suspended by a belt around his throat, attached to the cell bars.

Vetoes Farm Bill

and then he proceeded at length to outline and explain his reasons for again disapproving it.

"The bill," he said, "contains not only the so-called equalization fee and other features of the old measure prejudicial, in my opinion, to sound public policy and to agriculture, but also new and highly objectionable provisions."

"In its entirety, it is little less undesirable than the earlier measure. The bill still is unconstitutional. This position is supported by the opinion of the attorney general."

Uses Strong Terms.

The veto message which President Coolidge sent to congress a year ago on the first McNary-Haugen bill denounced the measure in the strongest terms Mr. Coolidge ever used in a public paper, and the message today repeated most of those arguments and added new ones.

"Cruelly deceptive to the farmer," "fantastic," "unworkable," "price-fixing fallacy," "encouragement to profiteering," "wasteful distribution," "governmental spying and policing," "these were but a few of the stinging descriptions applied to the measure by Mr. Coolidge in the course of his long message, despite the endorsement of the bill by such economic authorities as Vice-president Dawes, Frank O. Lowden, and others who were instrumental in pushing it through congress.

Six Specific Objections.

Generally, the president said, he had six specific objections to the measure.

"A detailed analysis of all the objections," his message stated "would involve a document of truly formidable proportions. However its major weaknesses and perils may be summarized under six headings.

"1. Its attempted price-fixing fallacy.

"2. The tax characteristics of the equalization fee.

"3. The widespread bureaucracy it would set up.

"4. Its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen.

"5. Its stimulation of over-production.

"6. Its aid to our foreign agricultural competitors."

"These topics," he continued, "by no means exhaust the list of fallacious and dangerous aspects of the bill, but they afford ample ground for its emphatic rejection."

MRS. HUDDLESTON weighed 240 pounds when she started, 20 pounds less when she finished. Skinny girls and women, you need not weigh 240, but you should be ashamed to cut down your vitality for the sake of an ugly, bony figure.

Ingram, who attended the meeting, stated that the improvement had been made without a permit from the city, the job having been supervised by City Engineer Clapsaddle.

Service Safety Director Moore defended Ingram's action, declaring modern building construction provides for excavated sidewalks for which no action on the part of council is necessary. He stated that the concrete covering over the coal bin was strong enough to support a load of 72 tons.

Solicitor Hoover explained that the coal bin should be authorized by a franchise, approved by city council, to safeguard the city from damages. The matter was referred to the franchise committee for investigation.

Approval of the legal notice for assessment in the improvement of St. Clair avenue between Young's alley and the Croxall property was voted.

Italia Leaves King's Bay for Frozen Arctic.

CREW IS CHEERED

Attempt Will be Made to Land in Uncharted Wastes.

KING'S BAY, Spitzbergen, May 23.—Bound for the North Pole on its second venture over the uncharted wastes of the frozen arctic, the dirigible Italia left its base here at 4:40 a. m. today.

Although weather conditions were not perfect, General Umberto Nobile, commander of the ship, felt that they were sufficiently favorable to allow him to start.

As the huge silver-sheened craft nosed its way upward through a murky haze, the crew of the supply ship Citta Di Milano, and natives who had come miles to watch the dirigible's departure, cheered enthusiastically and wished the intrepid air-voyagers Godspeed.

Before starting, General Nobile announced that he first planned to cruise to the top of Greenland, from there, he said, he would head for the North Pole.

Just before Nobile climbed into the control car of the Italia, the padre of the Citta Di Milano blessed the cross which will be dropped from the ship when it reaches the pole.

Nobile and his crew of 15 smiled confidently and waved to their well-wishers as the ship sailed slowly into space. It soon gathered speed and altitude and after some fifteen or twenty minutes it disappeared in the clouds.

When the Italia reaches the pole, it is expected an attempt will be made to land several members of the crew to make scientific observations, if weather conditions permit.

Mayor Ousts Altman

Proposed Plat Rejected.

Despite Altman's vote, the proposed acceptance of the plat was rejected by council because of the three-fourths majority rule in the absence of the planning commission's ratification of the allotment. Councilmen Green and Hughes opposed the plan.

When the ordinance was taken up for consideration Councilmen Altman, Ferguson, Fleming, Frost, Lindell and Green supported it, while Hughes voted "nay." Altman then offered a motion that it be placed on first reading, but on roll call Green joined Hughes in voting against it, stating that he had intended to vote in the negative on the first roll call, but voted in the affirmative by mistake.

Solicitor Hoover at this point ruled the motion was lost, lacking the necessary three-fourths vote. Fleming asserted that council had never been advised that the planning committee had opposed acceptance of the plat. Hoover explained that the letter received by council about 10 days ago, approving the subdivision on condition that the street be 30 feet wide, was virtually notice of disapproval with a 20-foot street provision. This ended the discussion on the proposition.

R. T. Adam and Charles Craig, owners of the subdivision, attended the meeting but took no part in the discussion.

Hoover Claims 508.

On the Republican side, the tables compiled here give Hoover as of today a delegate total of approximately 508, included in which is the full Pennsylvania delegation of 79, but none at all from New York. If these figures can be made to stand up, they mean that the cabinet candidate will go to Kansas City with but two score votes standing between him and the nomination.

There is, however, considerable controversy over these Hoover figures, the Lowden people in particular insisting that Hoover has been too generous in his claiming. They are not yet disposed to admit that he will get all of Pennsylvania's 79 votes.

In most cases, Hoover has the so-called organization with him in these have been supplied with funds from southern contests. The national committee, some of them Negroes, the Hoover war chest, as brought out by the senate's investigation into campaign expenditures.

Should the national committee throw out any appreciable number of these contested Hoover delegates it may have an important bearing on the final result.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 23.—The airplane stocks and the motors were the leaders in a brisk rally of stock prices in the early trading today. Curtis and Wright Aero responded with 10 point jumps to the official announcement of Col. Lindbergh's affiliation with the Transcontinental Air Transport Inc., as technician. These advances restored about half of yesterday's losses and the stocks were active in the first period. General Motors rose 2 1/2 points in the lead of the motor shares.

Weekly freight car loadings topped the million mark in the last period reported by the American Railway Association and showed an advance of 22,300 cars over the previous week. The business and industrial reports were generally favorable, the Dodge statements showing April building construction contracts the largest of any month in American history. Copper and oil prices were firm, with active buying the domestic market.

Many of the big traders were again ready to buy stocks. General Motors and American Car carried the burden of the advance in the market favorites. Motors selling above 188 and Can at 90, up 1 1/2. Studebaker and Chrysler recovered about 2 points each. International Nickel rose 3 and Radio 3 1/2.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 23.—Thirteen bodies have been recovered and four other men are missing in an explosion that wrecked the No. 1 mine of the Yukon Pocahtontas Coal company at Yukon, McDowell county, last night, according to messages received today.

Rescue crews were penetrating the deeper recesses of the mine in an effort to locate the missing.

Search Ruins for Victims.

MATHER, Pa., May 23.—While rescue crews groped their way through the debris-strewn Mather Colliery here today in search of the last of the bodies of 197 victims of Saturday's explosion, Ira Thomas, chief deputy of the state bureau of mines, made plans for the official investigation into the cause of the blast.

The state's investigation will be held with the cooperation of the Greene county coroner's office and officials of the federal bureau of mines, thus doing away with the necessity of other probes.

Reports from time to time today indicated that rescue crews had located many of the remaining bodies in the mine, but were forced to dig away debris under which the men were buried.

The formal investigation will begin as soon as the bodies are recovered and debris cleared away to allow Thomas, 21 state deputies, federal experts and the coroners jury to enter the recess of the mine.

The new Sixth street pump has prevented a lot of "pore" throats during the past three days, with the city's domestic supply of water filled with mud as a result of Saturday's storm.

The heavy rain stirred up the dam and as a result, spigots poured forth a heavy, muddy water. Service Director George Imrie was out early Sunday morning and installed brand new pump on the well in Sixth street and it has been going almost constantly since then.

City forces are engaged this week in washing and cleaning up streets in general.

Turk Nash Stops Wellsville; Chester Trims Homer Laughlin

Fowler Nine Noses Out 6 To 5 Win Over Leaders

Nicholson Combine Suffers First Defeat of Season in Bitterly Fought Game; Deshler Goes Route.

Winning streak of the Wellsville Nash Motors of the City Industrial League last night was snapped by John Fowler's Turk Nash club at Nicholson Field, the Ceramic City delegation handing the league pace setters their first defeat of the present campaign by a score of 6 to 5 in a bitterly fought, seven-inning contest. The biggest crowd of the season witnessed the scrap.

The Turk Nash club went into the fray without the services of Ray Pollock, infielder and pitcher, and Jack Smittle, first baseman and slugger. But Lou Gehrig himself could have been of no greater service to his club than Earl "Goose" Mundy, who covered the initial bag for Turk Nash in the absence of Smittle. Mundy handled seven chances at the bag without even the appearance of a slip and half the time he had to dig them out of the dust in front of him. Besides that he collected two hits in three trips to the plate, singling the first time up and scoring the first run, and crashing out a home run off "Yock" Huffman, relief pitcher, in the sixth to tie the count and pave the way to a Turk Nash conquest. Undoubtedly Mundy handled the job very well.

The Turk Nash infield looked good all around. Tommy Sayres was at second, Captain Les McMath at short and Eddie Bailey at third. It was Bailey's first full game of the season and his play was a big factor in the team's success. He singled twice in four times up, driving in three runs, had one putout and two assists.

While "Sonny" Deshler gave up 10 hits, all told, he nevertheless pitched consistently, keeping his bingles well spread except in the third, and striking out nine of the opposition. Deshler tossed a speed ball in the opening frames but after the third when Wellsville scored three times he started to hooking them and handed out only three hits in the last four innings.

Tolbert, Wellsville second sacker, led the sluggers of both teams with three safe crashes in three times up, all singles. Cal Wagner, as usual, had a big day with three bingles in four trips to the plate, two of them two-base clouts out of the lot. Les McMath, Turk Nash, and Edwards, Wellsville, also collected a pair of blows apiece, and both fielded faultlessly.

Les McMath got one of his two bingles in the first trip up, but he got no further than first with it. Webber, Sayres and Deshler all flied out.

C. Wagner, Wellsville's premier right field slugger, also got the range early, lifting one over the boards in the opening frame. His two predecessors, at the plate, Adamson and Rager, had fanned, however, and Edwards flew out to middle to retire the side.

The Turk Nash club made its first gesture toward victory in the second fifth with the exception of at least tying it up. Their hopes were more than realized when two Wellsville runners crossed. Cal Wagner led off with a two-bagger over the fence. Edwards fanned but Tolbert singled to score Wagner with the tying run. Teft, running for Tolbert, swiped second.

Deshler, attempting to catch Teft, threw suddenly to second but the bag was unoccupied and Teft went on to third and the ball to middle field. Webber pegged to the hot corner but the toss was fide and bounded into the crowd, Teft going on to the plate, the run giving the Wellsville club a one-point advantage.

Deshler then fanned G. Wagner and Hancock, the next two men up.

"Yock" Huffman went to the box in Easton's place as the sixth inning got under way. On the second or third pitch, Earl Mundy, Turk Nash first sacker, crashed the ball to center and it rolled into the extreme corner of the lot, Mundy completing the circuit and knotting the count again. Aufderheide, next up, lined the ball over Edwards' head into right, but Cal Wagner, coming in at full speed, scooped the pellet off the grass and with a perfect throw tossed Aufderheide out at first. Godwin, batting for White, and Maley were retired on infield outs.

Wellsville went out in order in the last of the sixth and Turk Nash came through with the winning run in the first of the seventh.

Hancock who had gone to second when Teft was stationed at short, singled at Webber at first. Sayres, singled and stole second. McMath hit a high one that Edwards grabbed in. Eddie Bailey crashed out his second single of the day and drove Sayres home with the run and the game. Deshler ended the frame by fanning.

A two-base hit by Edwards with two men down in the seventh, temporarily raised the hopes of home club supporters in the seventh.

Wagner, batting for Rager, fanned and Cal Wagner flew out to Webber. Edwards, a lefthand hitter, crossed up the opposition defense by smashing the ball to left. He was held at second as Teft struck out.

Chester Defeats Laughlin

Seven-run Rally Sews Game up in Fifth.

Although outhit, 12 to 10, Frank Riley's Chester City league club slipped seven runs over on Laughlin China in a belated rally last night at Newell and copped a free-hitting contest, 12 to 8, tightening their hold on second place.

Both clubs used practically their entire pitching staffs, three hurlers apiece.

Cochrane started for Chester but gave way to Johnson in the third and Kimbel tossed them in the final frame.

Miles was in the box for Laughlin when play started but he too went benched in favor of Justice in the fourth. Wright relieved Justice in the final inning.

Ray Wilde, pitcher, proving himself an extremely versatile, as well as capable, athlete, helped out with the chores considerably last night by doing a little catching and playing first base in-between times.

Connors and Parsons led the Chester sluggers, the former crashing out three bingles in four trips out and the latter two in a quartet of trials.

Ranaldi and Bublin connected safely twice in three times up for Laughlin while Simcox and Merchant contributed a couple of blows apiece in four attempts.

Somebody was scoring in every inning except the fourth and Laughlin's share of the fifth.

Chester took the lead with a run in the first, Greene walking and counting on Connors' two-bagger.

Laughlin evened it up, Finley walked and Merchant and Bublin singled successively.

Chester made two more in the second and the Potters one.

The visitors negotiated the circuit for two additional counters in the third and the outlook was quite rosy. This, however, was all wet as the Potters, clubbing five hits and coaxing two walks out of the Chester pitching, scored six runs in the last of the same inning. A Laughlin victory then loomed until the fifth, both teams going scoreless in the fourth.

But the traffic around the paths became heavy again in the fifth frame

Chester Faces Potters Nine At East End

Potters Anxious to Break Rivals' Win Streak.

One City Industrial League winning streak was cut off last night and a desperate attempt will be made to duplicate the feat in another clash tonight.

The Chester leaguers, winning from Laughlin last night, rang up their fourth consecutive victory. Tonight they tangle with K. T. K. on the Potters' own lot at Columbian park, and a hot tilt is anticipated.

The Kates lost to Chester Monday at Smith Field and naturally will be anxious to even it up. In their Monday tilt McCoy's gang was nosed out by a 13-10 tally, both clubs touring the circuit chiefly on infield bobbles.

Hancock pitched air-tight ball and the Y. M. C. A. took over the Grand Billards, 6-0, at Klondyke.

The Grands could do nothing with Hancock's delivery and collected only three safe blows during the session. Angus, the Grand's pitcher, secured two of the hits. Hancock, also, got two hits. Bloor, Sayre and Mills contributed the fielding features.

Midway Oils defeated Persohn's Butchers, 6-2, last night on the Midway lot. L. Persohn gave the Midways nine bingles and Farrell of the Oils was touched for seven.

On Monday night the Midways won from the Grand Billards by a score of 6 to 4. The Midways hit Angus for eight blows while Danah of the Oils gave up 15. The Oilers, however, made theirs count.

The Midways would like to arrange games with teams in the district. John Paul, phone 278, is booking manager.

Reds Beat Cubs; Go Into Lead

Giants Settle Down for Long Home Stay.

By Les Conlin.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The contenders in the National League race are moving around these days faster than apartment dwellers on the first of October, getting in first place and out again with an agility comparable to that of the well-known Mr. Flanagan. St. Louis, in fourth place, trails the league-leading Reds by only one game today, and Cincinnati has lost the same number of games as Brooklyn, in fifth place.

Cincinnati took first place away from Chicago yesterday by nailing out the Pirates, 5 to 4, while the Cubs suffered their third successive setback since compiling a winning streak of thirteen straight victories. Despite Hack Wilson's ninth homer of the season, the Bruins were beaten by the Cardinals, 3 to 2, on Roetger's single in the eighth.

The Giants, comfortably settled for a long stay in New York, stand a good chance of establishing themselves in first place during the next two weeks. The New Yorkers have Brooklyn's number. They trimmed the Robins yesterday, 9 to 5, for the fourth time in as many starts this season. Five Brooklyn bums ruined Dazzy Vance's pitching.

Big Ed Brandt, Boston rookie south-paw who specializes in low-hit games, looks as the best pitching find of the season. The Seattle Dutchman held the Phillies to three hits, two of which came in the ninth, and won by a 3 to 1 margin.

dearly for stopping the Yankees on Monday. The Yanks simply slaughtered them yesterday, 14 to 4, collecting 22 hits including Ruth's thirteenth homer and Gehrig's seventh. Stanley Coveleskie, the ancient spitballer who is making a grand come-back, turned in his third straight victory.

Connie Mack shook the moth balls out of Eddie Collins' uniform and sent the veteran to second base in the Washington game. All Eddie did was to drive in the tying and winning runs in his two times at bat. Al Simmons, recovering from rheumatism, finally got into the game as a pinch hitter and smacked a far from rheumatic triple. The A's won in the eleventh, 7 to 6, bringing to life the ancient wheeze about Washington being first in war, first in peace and last in the American League.

Johnny Mostil personally conducted the White Sox to a 4 to 3 win over Cleveland. He got three hits, scored all the way from second on a wild pitch by George Uhle, and made eleven putouts and one assist in the field, equalling the world's record for center fielders.

Heilman's homer featured Detroit's 6 to 3 victory over the Browns.

Mandell Success Is Empty

Tex Signs McLarnin for Future Bouts.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 23.—They say that nothing succeeds like success but an epigram like that is good only as long as the inevitable exception.

We will hasten to consider the sad story of Samuel Mandell, the lightweight champion. Samuel may be said to have been markedly successful in defending his championship title on Monday night. And does that mean he is to prosper in proportion to the success of his undertaking? Yes, indeed; it does not.

Mandell was so all-fired successful the other night that it looks as though he might have the rest of the summer quite to himself. He apparently fought himself right out of work.

Now, children, let us pass along to the next picture. What do you see? That's right, Constance; you see a man. Is the man big? No, the man is little. Was the little man successful on Monday night? No, the little man was very unsuccessful. Is the little man winking, at you? No, the little man closed his eye by mistake on Monday night and now he can't open it. Would the little man wink if he could? Undoubtedly, hassenpfeffer. If the little man doesn't feel like winking today, he ought to have the other eye closed for him.

But James McLarnin, the unsuccessful candidate at Monday's lightweight election, has a sense of humor and so he will wink almost involuntarily as he considers the fact that they are busy at this moment trying to match him into plenty of money. Our Mr. Rickard is not taking the winner of Monday's championship and sending him along after bigger and better purses. He is placing the loser in that spot, the idea being that Mandell simply was too successful to bother with from now on.

"I have nothing in mind for Mandell," said our Mr. Rickard today, "but I figure on dropping McLarnin in with a lightweight or two."

Although he didn't say as much, it is believed that our Mr. Rickard will wait to get the winner of the Terris-Bruce Flowers fight and then sign him to a McLarnin contract. Then, according to the tentative program outlined, McLarnin, provided he gets by the Terris-Flowers winner, will be dropped in with Billy Wallace for a late summer attraction.

Meanwhile, where does Mandell come in? It seems that he doesn't. He fought a perfect fight; in fact, he made only one mistake all night but that one settled it. He was so ill advised as to prove that he was too downright good.

Belgian farmers are complaining because the purchasing power is decreasing.

MIDLAND SOFT BALL

MIDLAND, Pa., May 22.—Order department of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company defeated the Mackintosh-Homphill team last night in one of the hardest fought games of the soft ball season. Errors were responsible for the downfall of the Macks.

Booden, catcher for the Ordermen, socked a home run in the third, with bases full. Prazier, pinch hitting for Hays of the Macks, knocked a homer in the ninth. Roman made a stellar catch in the eighth when he pulled in a long foul from Lawrence's bat.

The REO

FLYING CLOUD

is not a racing car but it's fast enough for Pete De Paolo

AUTOMOBILE racing has its place in the scheme of things, no doubt.

To the gruelling tests of the Speedway—at Culver City, at Indianapolis, at the Monza Grand Prix—is due a large part of present-day automobile design. But racing speed is for the Speedway—not for the public highway.

That's why the Flying Cloud is not built to do "100 miles an hour." It's why we don't even claim 100 miles an hour.

It will do more than 75 miles an hour—75 honest miles. And that's fast enough. It's faster than the average driver ever wants to go. And it's faster than the average driver ever has safe and lawful opportunity to drive.

But the possession of that 75-miles-per-hour capacity implies the possession of other characteristics that the average driver does want—the flashing acceleration that gets him away from the traffic-barrier ahead of the pack; the "zoom" that picks up the traffic pockets with incredible ease and with perfect safety; and the man-saving and motor-saving surplus of power for the hills and the mountains.

That's why Pete De Paolo, speed-king of America, bought a Flying Cloud for his own use—when he's not burning up the bricks at Indianapolis; that's why he joined the Reo sales-forces in Southern California and is making a great sales-record—and hosts of new friends—in that toughest of all markets.

It's why he asked—and received—permission to christen his world's champion race-car—the car that in 1927 carried him to his second world's speedway championship—"Flying Cloud Special." His racing-car is not a Reo Flying Cloud; neither is the Reo Flying Cloud a racing-car.

But they're both thoroughbreds. They're both built to stand out above the rank and file. They're both built to stand the gaff—to "go through," in other words.

The Reo Flying Cloud has received no finer tribute—and it has received many—than Pete De Paolo paid it when he gave its name to his own championship racing-car, and identified himself with the organization that builds it.

The Constant Flame

Narrative of Love and Struggle
Against Temptations

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

He said, "Nice, ain't they, Aggie? Do a fella good. Get better now—right along—"

But the shadow was very blue about his lips and little drops stood on his forehead. Agnes whispered, "Quick, Em—the doctor—"

Even as she turned he called in a voice oddly blurred, "Emmy—good girl—life ahead. Not my mistakes—"

Then bewilderment crossed his eyes and he lay still.

Curiously enough it was Marty Nolan who came into the Day home as soon as word went out that Emily's father had died and took upon himself the score of things that must be done at such a time.

Agnes gave way to weariness and the long strain of caring for her husband and was put to bed in a darkened room with Mrs. Brent to sit beside her, offering what comfort one woman may give another. This left Emily burdened with responsibility and she turned to Marty's gruff efficiency hardly knowing what she did.

It was Frances Hadden who made the funeral arrangements but Marty who carried them out. It was Marty who answered the doorbell and telephone, who ran errands and moved the furniture in the living room to make place for the casket that was brought there. Once, being unable to sleep, and going to the porch for a breath of air as dawn was coming, Emily found him sitting on the steps, cigarette aglow in the faint light.

"I'll never be able to thank you," she said.

"Don't need to, Em. Spose I make a cup of coffee? Kinda cold so early in the morning."

They sat at the kitchen table and drank coffee together without a word.

And when the family and friends of one who had been Steven Day gathered in the living room, it was Marty who kept beside her, hanging to her arm, seeming to force some of his strength into her.

Life had become a vague, misty thing in which objects stood out with grotesque clarity. Agnes, all in sable veils, between Mrs. Brent and Mrs. Briggs. Kitten, with her bright hair somehow challenging her black. Wentworth Rossiter coming in sorrowfully. A group of workmen, some of those who had followed her father on the march of protest from Great View to Lyall, sitting together.

The solemn grandeur of the funeral service. "I am the Resurrection and the Life. If a man believe in me though he be dead he shall live again—"

That pierced the numbness that had held her, went thundering into her thought. Life—ah, no death! Separation—change—yes. But no end. Nothing to fear out in the gray where he had gone.

She could cry now. She would remember what he had told her at the last. "Not my mistakes—" He saw then where he had been wrong and wished her to take a broader view. Easy to do that for him; go on where he left off.

Yet she was to be swayed and filled with doubt; she was to wonder, indeed, if Steven Day had been mistaken or if, worse, he still alive, he would go on seeing himself the down-trodden victim.

This began on the day after the funeral when Rossiter came to see Agnes.

"I needn't tell you," he said, "how sorry I am. He was one of our oldest employees. We have a system of pensioning those who have been with us over a number of years. He'd have been eligible soon and we feel now that his family should benefit. You'll let us do this for you?"

But Agnes turned her gray face regarding him with eyes in which there was no friendliness. "We'll take nothing from you, Mr. Rossiter."

"You can't mean that? You didn't understand, perhaps; we'd have done this for him in any case and now we wish to help."

"We'll not want your help. No, thank you, Mr. Rossiter." And she stood up, glancing toward the door.

He said, only, "I'm sorry," and went away.

And when Emily protested, Agnes flared with a small show of spirit. "You'd have me do this thing, Emily? A price on your father's life? Yes, don't forget that. They killed him. He'd be alive today if they hadn't ground him so. Sending him out to that work on the road—murder, that was—"

"But they didn't send him out, Muz. He went himself. Oh, you know that. Why, they wanted him back; Mr. Rossiter came here, told him there was a better place for him. You tried to get him to go. How can you say such things?"

But Mrs. Day clung to her illusion with the terrible stubbornness of the meek. She no longer saw her husband as a malcontent who had frustrated himself and her at every turn. Death had made a martyr of him—given him a dignity that never was his in life. And she envisioned a social and a political system, represented by Wentworth Rossiter, as his slayer.

Emily understood the absurdity of this. But as time went along and she found how futile argument was, Agnes' firm belief began to make an impression upon her.

She would ask herself if there could be reason for that belief; one, perhaps, she didn't understand.

But Rossiter's kindness, coming to them with his offer of help, kept her viewpoint safe. She could feel no antagonism toward the "white collar crowd."

CHAPTER 10.

Steven Day left his family nothing but their small home and some debts.

Frances Hadden reminded Emily that a job was waiting in her shop. "Though of course," she explained "what you make won't be enough for the family."

They talked it over and Agnes said she could do a little sewing. "My work is neat, though I'd not be up to anything fancy. I could do mending and such. There must be some would be glad to have odd jobs taken care of."

As it turned out there were. At first Mrs. Hadden gave her curtains to hem; beautiful, silken things whose exquisite colorings thrilled Emily.

But soon she laid these aside for there was plenty of mending on laces and filmy bits of lingerie and even on gowns born in Paris and worn by the elite of River Road.

Some of these things, Emily noted, sent to her mother by Mrs. Briggs, belonged to Avis Rossiter.

In the meantime Emily was establishing in the Hadden shop. She began to pore over the dusty volumes, to gather a miscellaneous assortment of knowledge on period furniture, medieval costumes, Byzantine decoration—everything that people of all ages have used to make their dress and habitations ornamental and interesting.

"Look at that now," she said to Mrs. Hadden one day. The difference in those chairs. One is all spindly curves, gilt and pale colors. Looks like something out of a candy shop. And this, so straight and stern and solid. Why, if it were a person it would stick up its nose at the other and probably scowl. You'd never believe people would like things so different."

"But the people were different, child. Furniture, you see, like dress and jewelry, reflects the characteristics of those who designed it."

"That first was turned out by folks as shallow as the pink and blue of the cushions and as frivolous as the gliding. In all the history of the world there has been no more trivial age than that of Louis in France."

"As for the other—you've studied the American colonial period. Stern and dependable. They were wrestling with elemental forces, fighting for life against tremendous odds, and they put the grimness of it into their furniture. Something majestic about it, though. The difference between an oak and an elder-bush."

Seeing her interest, Mrs. Hadden brought samples of fabric and Emily began to learn the origin of each and how it might and might not be used properly. She enjoyed this, but her chief delight was with colors. She never wearied of fussing over the dye vats; experimenting with the mysteries of pigment, trying out weird combinations of shades.

She went at this in a heedless fashion which soon would have stained her hands like sample cards had not Mrs. Hadden insisted that she wear gloves.

"Well, you don't," Emily objected.

CHICAGO HITS RACKETEERS TO SAVE INDUSTRY

Millions for Defense, Not One Cent for Tribute.

EXPOSE LEADERS

Citizens to End Gang Levy on Their Daily Lives.

CHICAGO.—Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute!

Taxation without representation! These old phrases that once rang through American history as the cry for freedom from the tyranny of an old world government have been resurrected in Chicago for a new fight to rid the city of its own domestic tyrants, the racketeers.

Badgered and heckled by "trade associations" formed for the sole purpose of extorting money from Chicago business men and the public, taxed on everything from hair cuts to milk by the racketeers that now have entered nearly two hundred retail and wholesale fields, citizens of Chicago have decided to end the gang levy on their daily lives.

The Employers' association of Chicago is leading the fight to break the steady grip of the gangster who exacts tribute on half the daily necessities of the Chicagoan's existence.

To Expose Leaders. Plans are now being laid to expose the self-appointed tax commissioners of the "racket," who exact from the citizen's pocket money to run the flourishing gang machine, which has been interwoven with the fabric political since the advent of prohibition.

Otto A. Jaburek, general counsel for the Employers' association, has taken it into his hands to aid in the expose, and perhaps he has taken his life into his hands in so doing, according to his friends. It has been well known that a "ride" or perhaps a swift fusillade from a sawed off shot gun ended the lives of more than one enterprising crusader who opposed the racket.

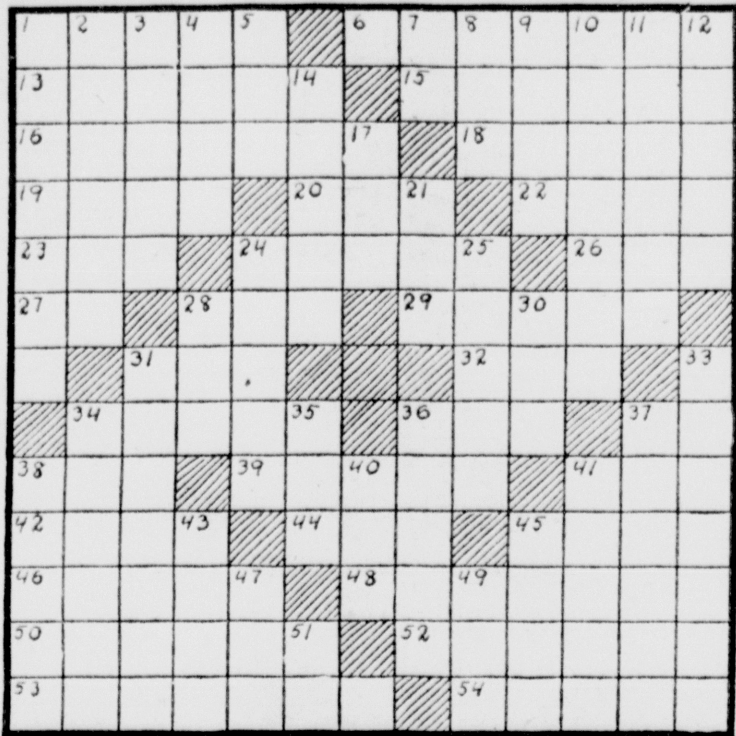

Business men will be appealed to, directly, to end the grip of gangland on Chicago life. Efforts are being made as rapidly as possible to band business men together into their own association, to fight the tentacles of the "association" leaders.

As it now stands, according to Jaburek and other prominent leaders in close touch with the situation, the racketeers find no field too humble for their activities.

Cleaners, for instance, were "organized," with the aid of a few bombs and a little "muscle work" into a compact group, Jaburek said. Then "the prices were lifted sharply, so that the public pays the tax levied by so called 'organizers'."

"Their methods," Jaburek said, "are simple enough. Business men are forced to pay tribute to the 'organizers" under penalty of personal injury or destruction of their goods and property. There is no apparent compensation for belonging to these associations.

Increasing Complaints.

"No craft is too insignificant to be racketed and none is too big."

"Boothblack have been victims of extortion and so have physicians."

Not only has there been an increasing murmur from the citizens of the city because of the high prices paid the "organizers" but there has been a determined movement on the part of "big money" to end the racket.

Factories employing thousands of persons have been kept out of the city, according to members of the Employers' association, because of the necessity for dealing with the racketeers.

Twenty industries definitely are listed as having withdrawn from Chicago for that reason, Jaburek said. The money loss outside the "levy," therefore, is tremendous.

The fight against racketeers has been in progress here for about a year, but the first mass action is said to be impending now. Fear, greater than fear of the racket, has kept influential employers in the "associations." By concerted attack, it is hoped the "millions for defense" slogan can be revived to end the newest menace to business and the citizens.

"Between thirty and forty racketeers have been put out of business, or rendered homeless," Jaburek said. "But the rest of them are flourishing and apparently immune to attack. We hope to wipe them all out."
